

Starting with the 2006 season card set, the numbers on all kicking and punting columns go to 42. If you are using play result boards issued prior to April 1, 2008, here are the results for those numbers. Also, you will now notice that certain kickers will have a KOB designation. That indicates that they can kick off but they're not the team's primary kickoff man; the player who usually kicks off will have just a KO symbol.
